in Jamesville, Wis.

A farewell banquet was tendered Zadie P. Corson of 28 Central street Sunday night in Ye Olde Tavern by the employes of Walter F. Spear and several of his Masohic friends. Mr. and Mrs. Corson left town Tuesday for Jamesville. Wis., where they are to make their home. Mr. Corson has been employed by Mr. Spear almost 10 years, having come to Brattleboro in 1912, when the Boston & Maine railroad bridge was being built and where Mr. Corson was employed as an ironworker. The banquet was attended by 16 of his friends and an eight-course roast chicken dinner was served. Mr. Spear acted as toastmaster, and the afterdinner exercises were featured by informal talks on the part of Mr. Corson and his fellow employes.

Mr. Corson has made no definite connection in Jamesville, but is moving there in order to be near Mrs. Corson's relatives who live in that locality.

GIVEN SENTENCE TO JAIL.

John Wojcik to Serve 30 Days for Beating His Wife-Her Eye Closed and Blackened.

A case of domestic infelicity was nired A case of domestic infelicity was aired in the municipal court Friday morning when John Wojcik, 48, an employe of the Central Vermont Railway Co. at the coal shutes, was brought before Judge Frank D. E. Stowe and charged with breach of the pence, to which he pleaded guilty. He was given a sentence of not less then 30 days and not more than 40 days at hard labor in the county jail at Newfanc.

Newfanc.

There has been considerable trouble in the Wojcik family for several weeks Mr. and Mrs. Wojcik live with several children in the north Watercure building at 107 Elliot street, and that morning the head of the family and his apouse became involved in one of the series of brawls which have occurred there recently. In the melee which ensued. Mrs. Wojcik received the worst of the encounter when her husband gave her a encounter when her husband gave her a severe blow which blackened and com-pletely closed her left eye and cut the skin underneath.

Neighbors who heard the row notified Sheriff Frank A. Wellman, who went to the house and arrested Wojcik.

Several of the neighbors also stated that Wojch had several times threatened his

In court, it developed that Wojcik was accustomed to pay the rent, which amounts to $S monthly, but contributed little else toward the support of the large family, the burden falling on the wife. It was said by neighbors that Wojcik would give his wife 50 cents in the morning for the purchase of food for the entire family and then would make trouble later when be found there wannot sufficient food for a full course meal.

The case was prosecuted by Grand Juror Paul A. Chase in the absence of State's Attorney Harold E. The investigation was the fourth one made by Sheriff Wellman, who has quieted the household on previous occasions when assaults have taken place there.

Judge Stowe, in sentencing Wojcik, said brawls of that nature would not be tolerated and added that the sentence was not as heavy as perhaps should be imposed in a case of that kind. Judge Stowe also made an arrangement that ne-half of whatever money Wojcik would earn at Newfane should go to Mrs. Wojcik toward the support of the family.

CHILDREN'S SKI PARTY TODAY. Will Be Held Under Auspices of Outing Club-All Children Having Skis In vited for Short Trip. The first of a series of children's ski parties will be held this afternoon under the auspices of the Brattleboro Outing club. The party will meet at the town hall at 2 o'clock and under the leadership of Fred H. Harris will ski to the hills on the Bradley estate and return, making a total course of about two miles. The trip has been made short on account of its being the first party of the series and because of several children the series and because of several children probably will make their first run

Announcement of the event was made Announcement of the event was made in schools yesterday by Miss Florence M. Wellman. Last year about 70 chil-dren took part in the event and it is ex-pected that fully that number will be out today.

Mr. Harris requests that every child desiring to take part should come fully equipped with proper ski fastenings, especially back straps, as the futility of trying to ski without proper equipment was shown last year. The affair is open to all children with skis who care to take part.

FISHING THROUGH ICE.

Good Catches of Bass and Northern Pike Reported-Shiners Used as Bait, Bought in Brattleboro.

Fishing through the ice around Brat-Fishing through the ice around Brattleboro has been in progress the past several days, or ever since the ice was thick enough, and fairly good luck is reported although no exceptional, catches have been made. The Hunt mendow is as usual the favorite fishing ground, but many go to the Retreat mendow at the mouth of West river and the mouth of Broad brook, while others fish along the Connecticut. At times as many as 50 persons have fished through the ice between Whetstone brook and the Hunt mendow at once this senson.

The principal catches are black bass, northern pike, wall-eyed pike and pickerel, the bass and northern-pike predominating. A number of good catches of bass have been made, some of the specimens weighing as high as four pounds, and one northern pike that weighed nine pounds has been reported.

The fishermen use shiners for balt, bought principally of the two local dealers, Charles Oakes and Don Bellville, paying from one to three cents each.
